Circus Day.

Thursday, July 6, marks the coming of the John H. Sparks World's Famous Show to Norway. Giving two complete performances. Circus day dawns with an indelible stir in the air that sets the small boy's heart to beating faster, and awakens pleasant memories in the minds of the gray beards who have not forgotten childhood's happy days.

The people of this village and community will undoubtedly be treated to a tremendous surprise in the above show, as reports are that it is not only tripled in size this season, but that it still retains those features that made it such a welcome visitor in past years, viz: its freedom from all semblance of gamblers and fakirs, the high-class moral entertainment afforded and its honorable methods of doing business.

John H. Sparks and his managerial associates have not only ventured into a field of greater endeavor, but in so doing, it is said, have outdistanced their rivals in the imagination with the additional telling advantage of being tripled in size. All new in the matter of equipment and presentation, still retaining the wonderful which has done much to cause this show to become famous, it is the most remarkable amusement enterprise of its kind in the world today.

The big noon day parade, while a feature of marvelous beauty and enormous expense, is but a slight reminder of the great pomp, opulence and bewildering brilliancy to be witnessed under the mammoth tent during the exhibitions. In other words the show is not all on the streets.

Cole-Wheeler.

The Congregational church was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings which has been held in town for years on Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, when Sue M. Wheeler and Roy Cole were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. A. T. McWhorter, who used the double ring service.

As the bridal party entered the auditorium Lohengrin's Bridal chorus was sung by eight members of the Eastern Club, including Mrs. Agnes Morton, Mrs. Luella Smiley, Grace Thayer, Jessie Tolman, Mrs. Alton Wheeler, Hattie Leach, Ruby Clark and Mrs. Virgie Wilson. The bride was given away by her father, Wm. J. Wheeler. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen, the bride and groom standing under a large bell of daisies.

The bridesmaids were Helen Barnes, Bessie Haggitt, Mrs. Myrtle Walker Chase of Littleton, Y. E. W. Walker, Elsie Hall of Bethel, Isabel Bryant of Bethel. The bridesmaids wore large black picture hats and two were gowned in blue, two in pink and two in white.

The flower girls were Alice Bartlett of Norway and Ruth McWhorter. Katherine McWhorter was ring bearer. The ushers were Stanley Wheeler, Robert Wheeler, Col. A. J. Stearns of Norway, Mr. Thurston of Bethel, Harry Shaw and Morton Bolster. Howard Wheeler, a brother of the bride, was best man, and Mrs. A. J. Stearns, sister of the bride, was maid of honor.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a beautiful white dress of crepe-metamorphosis and wore a bride veil fastened with lilies of the valley and smilax. She carried a bouquet of bride roses.

The bride's gift to the bridesmaids was a handsome gold brooch, her gift to the flower girls and ring bearers, a gold bracelet, and her gift to the ushers, a gold scarf pin.

The church was prettily decorated with evergreen, ferns and daisies. The pulpit was literally blanketed in evergreen, and streamers and wreaths ornamented the windows and door.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride and about forty invited guests were present. Refreshments were served by the Eastern Club. The ladies in the evening when all present were busily engaged, the bride and groom left the second story of the house by a ladder and took an automobile which was waiting on the back street, and went to Bethel. It was over an hour after they had left before those who intended to serenade them learned of their defeat. Mrs. Cole's going away dress was blue broad cloth.

Mrs. Cole is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Wheeler and is one of the most popular young ladies of the village. She is a graduate of the Paris High school and for a number of years taught in the sixth and seventh grades at the Brick schoolhouse. Retrospection.

For common folks, the simple rhymes Of youthful and of happy times, When love was fresh, and life was new, When all were pure and all were true, The clouds that hid the morning sun, And the trees that threw a grateful shade And the hoody day that fell o'er the glade. How keen the sense of sweet repose, When life's roses are turned to me, And our hearts are bitter through and through. At last at the gate of eternal youth, Prepared for us by a loving hand, When we had obeyed the Father's commands, Child weary of sorrow, come home. Norway, June 18, 1911.

A CHARMING WOMAN is one who is lovely in face, form, mind and temper. But it is hard for a woman to be charming without health. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and kidney disease show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Eleonor's Bitters always prove a Godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate the stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood, give strong nerves, bright eyes, pure breath, smooth, velvety skin, lovely complexion and perfect health. Try them. 50c at The Noyes Drug Store. 22-26

KEZAR FALLS.

Gypsies Captured.
A series of bold robberies resulted Saturday in the rounding up of a band of gypsies by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Pitts of Harrison.

The robberies, which are alleged to have been committed by these traveling folks, were at North Bridgton village and for a while there was great excitement at that place. As soon as the deputy sheriff was notified of what had taken place he started in pursuit of the gang in an automobile driven by Bert Hall of North Bridgton, and the gypsies were overtaken not far from this place.

The band is believed to be the same that has been driven out of several cities and towns in this State, and when they arrived at North Bridgton during the forenoon some of them went into a grocery store. After one had gained the attention of the clerk others helped themselves to a choice assortment of goods.

A little later they overtook Arthur Emerson on the street and started to rob him, but he, evidently for the purpose of getting away, ran. He was too quick and got away. Several more raids were made and then the party started off in the direction of Kezar Falls.

Not far from the main street of North Bridgton they came across Elias Thomas a man 75 years of age, and knocking him down, some of them jumped on him and used him pretty roughly. He struggled to escape, but he was powerless against himself, and the $84 which he had was taken.

It is interesting to note and compare the modern methods of implementation for road construction with the old-time ways of "working out" the taxes. It is by the radical innovations of the present board of commissioners, coupled with a liberal use of dynamite that they are bound to make considerable of a noise.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Francis A. Griffin, one of the oldest employees of the East Boston ferries, died suddenly Monday night June 12th, subsequently to his completing a tour of duty. Mr. Griffin was on duty as usual Monday evening as a tollman at the East Boston side of the south ferry. He was relieved at 10 o'clock, and was at the Boston side of the ferry when he complained of feeling ill. The police ambulance was summoned, and Mr. Griffin was taken to Haymarket Square relief station, where he died shortly afterward.

Heart failure was undoubtedly the cause of death. Mr. Griffin was 70 years old and for 40 years had been employed by the city of Boston in the ferry department. For many years past he had been a tollman.

Mr. Griffin resided at 52 West Eagle street. He was a quiet and reserved man and one who was known for his kindness and gentleness of manner. He leaves one son and five daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Geo. D. Swift of Norway.

Nancy C. Gary. Mrs. Gary was born in Hiram, Dec. 15, 1824, and died in Norway, June 21, 1911. She was the widow of William W. Gary and has lived in Norway for about forty-five years. In many ways she was quite a remarkable woman for one of her age. Up to within a year, when she had a slight shock, she had enjoyed perfect health and had retained all her faculties. She had a cheerful disposition and maintained a strong Christian character and in her death the Christian church at Lovell has lost its last charter member. She is survived by one sister and two sons. The funeral services were held at the chapel at North Norway and were conducted by Rev. B. C. Wentworth.

Master Archibald F. Swift and sister Ruby have been visiting in Boston, Medford and Portland.

Lena Buck, who has been teaching for the past fifteen weeks in Jackson, N. H., is working now at Hawthorn Cottage as waitress.

Walter L. Sanborn of Boston is visiting his father, D. S. Sanborn. He attended his college commencement on his trip here.

If Pike's bill is to become the residential part of Norway, as is now tending, would it not be well to widen the road bed to, say, as much more as its present width?

It is a bad plan to cut out bushes and trim trees and then burn the bushes under the standing trees one wishes saved. A fire quite a distance from a tree is sure to kill more or less of it.

William H. Porter, the possessor of the Boston Post case, is 89 years of age and is a very smart man for one of his years. Mr. Porter lives on lower Main street and Saturday morning walked to the ADVERTISER office and made us a call. Mr. Porter was born May 8, 1822.

Address Mrs. Pinkham, care of Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution, as it is too expensive. It is free and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today.

Grumblers and Gossipers. They very nearly, if not quite, belong to the same species—the principal characteristics being, very limber tongues, very narrow minds, small eyes, turned to Fryeburg and is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Burbank.

Both species are found in all localities inhabited by human beings for they prey principally upon the human family. They are the both sexes and in all conditions of life irrespective of age, hair, old age or youth, riches or poverty, in city or in country.

It is difficult to tell which are more entertaining, grumblers or gossipers. There is perhaps more utility to the gossip for one has the grumbler's stories down quite fine after a short time and can tell when he sees Mrs. A. coming that he will hear numerous grievances against members of her husband's family, how hard he has to work and how little she can go on—and

Mrs. B. comes who moved into the country from the city you will be entertained by a dissertation upon the income of the country in general and the advantages of living in the city.

Mr. C. has neighbors who always try to get the better of him.—Mr. D. grumbles about the roads in town and the town officers and high taxes.—Mrs. E. always has some ailment to tell about,—and so on down the list. Of course you soon have these tales by heart and could even prompt should any of the grumblers falter, which is seldom.

The gossip generally has something interesting or strange at hand and if the third or fourth telling the story will have grown to startling proportions.

A gossip really ought not to have any other business to attend to, for in their neighborhood it is enough for one person to keep the run of everybody's affairs and report faithfully.

If one is in the back kitchen cooking or in the field hoeing there are liable quite a number of events to transpire which if suitably enlarged and improved upon, would make good material for peddling.

So I would advise that one person be set apart in each community to do the whole gossiping and nothing else. Give them a task and cover while they will not conflict with another gossip and let them devote their entire time.

In this way we shall get better service and can attend to our own affairs more thoroughly. GERTUDE I. BARROWS, Otisfield, Me.
